11/08/2022, 10:08 - Rob Baptie: I just messing but messing is good. It gives spice to life. You are keen to progress your life (two kids you said yesterday), noted. You are happy type. I never want to see you loose that. It will fade as life goes on but I will do my best to keep you happy faced
11/08/2022, 10:09 - Rob Baptie: Bad answer. I don't control. I just talk and smile and make you happy as I can ncould be worse
11/08/2022, 10:09 - Jona Dolendo: Nosebleed bhe hehehe
11/08/2022, 10:10 - Jona Dolendo: But its true i said that i want 2kids in future bhe
11/08/2022, 10:10 - Rob Baptie: Ok. I wish you well in all things. Know that
11/08/2022, 10:12 - Jona Dolendo: Yes bhe i keep that and im happy
11/08/2022, 10:12 - Rob Baptie: I can get bigger house here if I don't pay this place. If have kids they give me bigger place. My plan was to rent this place and use money to live
11/08/2022, 10:14 - Rob Baptie: This place I need to pay 35 grand. But its market value is 106 grand. But if you want to stay England and have kids need not to pay balloon payment.
11/08/2022, 10:15 - Rob Baptie: Small money compared to some but will give you ok life when I'm not here lovely

11/08/2022, 10:18 - Jona Dolendo: Soon bhe we are decide where we are live phil or england
11/08/2022, 10:18 - Jona Dolendo: What means pay balloon payment bhe
11/08/2022, 10:19 - Rob Baptie: Yes. But I try take you aware of situation. If you have kids I die and we have bigger place you get to keep always.
11/08/2022, 10:21 - Rob Baptie: I mean I have to pay or not 35k ... which I have. If I do that. They (government), will not give bigger place to raise kids
11/08/2022, 10:23 - Rob Baptie: I know what I'm getting with you. I will do what you want in these regards because you will b here longer than me. That's fine. It's about balance with finances. Free house or make own place PH
11/08/2022, 10:23 - Rob Baptie: *make
11/08/2022, 10:24 - Jona Dolendo: Maybe that time bhe we had decision where we live. If the time comes you gone maybe in philippines

11/08/2022, 10:27 - Rob Baptie: Good. Owning stuff is a pain in the ass. Having nothing means government here pay and help. Cannot live this place two kids. Too small. Can buy bigger place when move. But as soon as I pay here biggernplace is off the table(gone)
11/08/2022, 10:27 - Jona Dolendo: Make own small house in the phil
11/08/2022, 10:28 - Rob Baptie: Ok we talk about. But you idealised view (and mine), may not be the smart move

11/08/2022, 10:33 - Jona Dolendo: My thinking now im lucky having you because you have plan with us bhe

 17/09/2022, 15:24 - Rob Baptie: What is a Genuine and Subsisting Relationship?

By Richmond Chambers -

If you are a spouse who wishes to join your partner in the UK, who is British or settled, the specified evidence for the relationship requirements set out in Appendix FM, including in relation to the genuine and subsisting relationship requirement, can seem scarce when compared to the financial requirements rules. The latter set out mandatory evidence that must be provided in order to prove that you meet or exceed the minimum threshold.

Section E-ECP.2.6 states that the relationship between the applicant and their partner must be a genuine and subsisting relationship. As an applicant, it can be difficult to determine precisely what this means and in turn, this can make it difficult to determine what type of evidence you may wish to use in your application.

What factors will the Home Office consider when assessing the genuine and subsisting relationship requirement?

The Immigration Directorate Instructions sheds some light on what factors may be taken into consideration when a caseworker assesses if your relationship is genuine and subsisting. Providing letters of correspondence addressed to you and/or your partner at the same address, any financial commitments you share together and evidence that the applicant and/or your partner have visited the other's home country can be used as evidence in your application.

Case law also provides an insight into what to expect. In Naz (subsisting marriage

- standard of proof) [2012] UKUT 40 the Entry Clearance Officer refused the application for the following reasons:

"It is reasonable to expect that in a genuine, subsisting, supporting and affectionate relationship...that there would be significant evidence of regular contact, signs of companionship, emotional support, affection, and abiding interest in each other's welfare and wellbeing...I am not satisfied that you have genuinely formed a relationship and durable with outward signs of affection and companionship." - para. 3

This is indicative that communication exchanged between you and your partner can be an important part of your application. However, there are few particularities on how you should communicate or by which means. For instance, in Goudey (subsisting marriage - evidence) Sudan [2012] UKUT 00041 (IAC) it was established that it is not a requirement to have to text your partner.

What does the outcome of Goudey (subsisting marriage - evidence) Sudan [2012] UKUT 00041 (IAC) mean?

In this case, it was deemed that evidence of telephone cards without confirmation on the number being called, was satisfactory. It was also noted in this case that:

"The judge was therefore imposing his own view of how the parties could reasonably be expected to conduct their relationship as opposed to evaluating the consistent and supported evidence that was before him as to how they actually did." - para. 10

Having said this, evidence of conversations on facebook messenger, whatsapp or email can often be useful to show that you and your partner are in regular contact with each other, although none of these are mandatory requirements.

Applying for the Engagement Visa

The challenge here is to discuss the important topic of the fiance visa vs spouse visa. Understanding the requirements of the visa is very important. Then knowing how to apply and then knowing what you can do on the visa is also vital.

Now let's start with the engagement visa, referred to as the fiance visa. Which is one of our top topics when speaking about fiance visa vs spouse visa. The visa requires both parties to show they have met in person. This is required, as in some of the South Asian countries, where the traditional practices of arranged marriages happen. This rule is to prevent any abuse to the current immigration laws. Details of the relationship when applying for the engagement visa. Must be provided, questions like, when did you meet for the first time, where, and how did the relationship begin. The questions go further, on how you maintained your relationship for example, do you speak on the phone. These are all required on the engagement visa.

Further to that, both the applicant and sponsor must be over 18 years of age when they apply for the fiance marriage visa. At the date of application, they must have the intention to legally marry in the UK as this is required for the engagement visa.

The sponsor is normally the person who is settled in the UK and supporting the fiance visa application. They need to show the financial requirements are met, so they can be employed and self-employed.
